

Jacotot – the Christian Psychoanalyst with Quran and Torah

I. Jacotot on the Question of the Meaning of Being

In fact Being, is a big word for Life, which then expresses a Poem, which is even meta-structured into philosophy or theology and this becomes the observation of Being, as spiritual upsurge.

Life though is miserable Being, according to some, which is why doctors and psychoanalysts become important.

Life cannot be miserable alone, it can be divine at least in psychology or mental states of happiness. This requires the nature of cognition of the psychoanalysis of people and this has the following rhythm analyses –

Collective crazy rhythms of people in a city.

Individual crazy rhythms in a city.

The individual who is elliptical on roads is a psychoanalyst, the one who follows laws is Christ.

People usually follow laws in the wrong sense – like the law of a pamphlet and its assertions to be made into a document called a programme to be implemented in the Communist or Christian Epistle or even Quran party is finally not made and not considered do-able when it is a job in fact a profession to do so.

The wrong laws are laws of cognition which are limited in expression.

II. Jacotot walks and describes the whole affair

I walk to the main road – you see many people wandering around in traffic.

I walk to the bazaar – many things being bought.

I walk to a job – a office – many things being done there.

Only a genius discerns what is what, and that is a psychoanalyst and teacher called Prophet.
